PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Water Quality Management Practices. Dr. Mary Scantling Foy, formerly with the Univ. of Arkansas who is now with Proxy-Clean®, will be speaking on water quality issues faced by growers.

The latest in Winter Ventilation systems & best management practices.

Renowned ventilation expert, Jim Donald from Auburn University, will share practical tips concerning the latest research and best management practices for winter ventilation systems in poultry houses.

Jim will also be addressing windrowing practices at the Union City meeting, and will be providing a LED lighting update at Cookeville and Cleveland.

Trade Show

Visit with vendors to see what's new in products and services. Starts 30 minutes before each meeting begins, so come early to register and visit with the vendors and sponsors on hand.

A Complimentary Meal will be served courtesy of the seminar sponsors. Please register in advance so that we know you are coming to have enough food and seats for everyone!

Recommended biosecurity for poultry growers attending meetings

1. Meeting at another poultry farm or facility

- Do not go to meeting directly after being in your poultry houses. Change shoes and clothing and preferably shower before attending meeting.
- At meeting, park as far away from poultry houses or facility as possible.
- After meeting, inspect shoes for any manure or debris, and clean and disinfect them if needed.
- If possible, wash vehicle and disinfect tires before arriving back at your premise.
- After arriving home, change clothes and shoes before entering your poultry house. Shower if possible.

2. Meeting at facility with no connection to poultry

- Do not go to meeting directly after being in your poultry houses. Change shoes and clothing and preferably shower before attending meeting.
- After meeting, inspect shoes for any manure or debris, and clean and disinfect them if needed.
- After arriving home, change clothes and shoes before entering your poultry house. Shower if possible.
